PRESENTS: POHSSUAN ZAIDE, PhD, RCC in Jungian Studies and Transformative Social Change

UNDERSTANDING THE TRANSFERENCE-COUNTERTRANSFERENCE DYAD: IMPLICATIONS FOR PRAXIS IN ADULT AND PLAY THERAPY (6 CEUs)

Time: April 14th, 2018; 9:00am - 4:30pm
Location: BCIT Downtown Campus, Vancouver

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
1. To understand the theoretical origins of and contemporary developments concerning the transference-countertransference
(C-CT) psychodynamic.
2. To understand the structure and dynamics of the psyche as the matrix from which the C-CT dyad arises.
3. To get an overview of strategies used in psychoanalysis to work with the transference, and to extrapolate insights that can be useful to non-analytic practitioners.
4. To understand the centrality and influence of the therapist's role in the therapeutic relationship vis à vis the countertransference.
5. To learn some strategies for working with therapist countertransference.
6. To get an overview of manifest C-CT issues in work with children and adolescents
